INVESTIGATION OF THE GREENSBORO POLICE DEPARTMENT

During the course of the ongoing investigation into the administration of former Chief of Police, David Wray, it has been determined that a non-sworn Police Department employee attended some meetings with members of the community, and recorded those meetings without their knowledge. It appears that all of the recordings were made prior to mid-January, 2006. The circumstances surrounding these incidents are unclear at this time and are under investigation.

Prior to this news release, Interim Chief Bellamy began meeting with the members of the community who were recorded by this employee to notify them of this fact. Maintaining public trust is essential to the operation of the police department, therefore all individuals who were identified as having been recorded will be notified. It is also essential to insure the integrity of the ongoing investigation, therefore no further information regarding this will be released by the Greensboro Police Department until the investigation is concluded.
